Dear Dealer,

We are proud to introduce two new pellet stoves the Hudson River product line. Enviro is manufacturing both of the new stoves, the Davenport and the Kinderhook.

Our new stoves have a 42,500 BTU rating on the faceplate. That rating is based on testing the units with an 8,2000 BTU per pound pellet. We tested the Davenport and Kinderhook in our lab with an Energex premium pellet that is rated between 9,000 and 9,500 btu per lb and our rating came in at 46,000 to 49,000 BTU and therefore we are using those results in our printed literature and our website. We are confident in these ratings and know that the end user will be happy with the heat these units produce using either a premium or super premium pellet.

We feel they are going to be a great addition to the Hudson River product line and will be very successful and reliable in the field.

Our website is being updated with all of the new products and the technical info including the owners manuals.

Sincerely,

Scott Passino
